

FMCSA MAKING CHANGES FOR 2010 UCR FEES

It's a good news-bad news story.. For those with numerous trailers the news is good. Trailer will no longer be counted as a Commercial Motor Vehicle (CMV). The fees for the power units, however, are expected to increase.

We've been asked, "What are these fees for anyway?" The best answer we've been able to dig up is these fees are used to support safety and enforcement programs and the UCR administration.

You do need to know that fines will be issued for failure to have current UCR Registration.
